Jimmy's Day

Jimmy saved money in the past few months. He had five hundred dollars. He wanted to buy a pair of new trainers. He felt very happy. He ran to the trainer shop quickly at once.

Oh his way, he koncked down a man. The leaflets dropped to the ground. Jimmy felt very sorry. He helped the man to pick up the leaflets.

At that time, he picked up one of the leaflets and read it. The leaflet was about a tae kwon do course. He wanted to learn. He wanted to learn tae kwon do.

At last, he spent the money to learn tae kwon do. He felt thrilled because he could keep fit and he became stronger and healthier. Excellent!
